

A child at Day Care

is a very busy kid and it really would be hard to tell you all the things I did.

I do so very many things
I paint and build and run, but sometimes when the day is through I've forgotten what I've done.

I don't always remember on every single day to make something special that we can take away.

But every single day I come I learn a little more so I'm just a wee bit smarter than I was before

But so we don't all forget how I spent my year
I've collect all my artwork
I did when I was here.
